

GSSI Summer 2022 Program Guide

What's inside:

Section 1: Council and Community Partner Events

These are scheduled events exclusive to Girl Scouts and hosted by GSSI or community partners. (Some events are open to all girls and families. See each event's details for specific information.)

Section 2: Community Events

These programs or events are open to the community and offer more options for troops to participate in fun activities together or with their families.

Section 3: Anytime Community Partner Events

These programs are hosted by a variety of community partners and are available to schedule any time for a troop or group. The document is divided into categories by the Girl Scout pillars STEM, Outdoors, and Life Skills. Many of these programs fulfill badge work requirements; the corresponding badges are listed at the end of each program description.

Have a suggestion for a new community partner program?

We'd love to hear from you! Reach out to Cassie McCord, Girl Experience Specialist, at cmccord@girlscouts-gssi.org.

Wind Workshop at Evansville Museum

AR B

July 22 & 23 | 2:00-4:00 PM CDT |
411 E Riverside Dr, Evansville | $12/girl |

You can't see it, and you can't always feel it, but the movement of air affects us and our surroundings all the time. Participants will learn all about wind in this workshop that explores gentle winds, breezes, and gusts. Girls will create their own wind-detecting device and test their device under a variety of conditions. The workshop includes admission to the Evansville Museum's highly interactive exhibit, Air: A Hand's-On Adventure. This workshop is presented in cooperation with Leap Into Science, a program of the Franklin Institute of Science.

Registration: Call the Evansville Museum at (812) 425-2406 from 12:00 PM-5:00 PM Friday-Sunday. For questions, contact Mitch Luman at mluman@emuseum.org.

eVscope Star Parties at Evansville Museum

AR J C S

411 E Riverside Dr, Evansville | $10/girl |

Are your girls interested in seeing what star clusters, nebula and galaxies look like close up? Using GSSI's eVscope, you'll be able to view these objects bright and close-up just like in you see in pictures. Through the eVscope, galaxies and nebula are seen in color, and hundreds of stars normally not seen also become visible. The eVscope allows users to observe objects normally invisible in light polluted, urban locations. Unlike traditional telescope, views through the eVscope are shared in real-time using a smartphone or tablet. Together with the Evansville Museum, we are hosting several star parties around this amazing piece of technology. Max 18 girls/session.

Requirements

Prior to arriving, troops need to download the Unistellar app from their device's app store. One smartphone, or tablet with the Unistellar app will need to be available for every two girls attending.

In the event of inclement weather, the event will be substituted with a planetarium show at the Evansville Museum. In this scenario, leaders will be contacted by the museum by email with 24-hour notice.
